DETAILED ACTION

Priority

Receipt is acknowledged of papers submitted under 35 U.S.C. 119(a)-(d), which papers have been placed of record in the file.

Drawings

The drawings are objected to as failing to comply with 37 CFR 1.84(p)(4) because reference character "44" has been used to designate both target mechanism and target member. Corrected drawing sheets in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. Any amended replacement drawing sheet should include all of the figures appearing on the immediate prior version of the sheet, even if only one figure is being amended. Each drawing sheet submitted after the filing date of an application must be labeled in the top margin as either "Replacement Sheet" or "New Sheet" pursuant to 37 CFR 1.121(d). If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

The drawings are objected to as failing to comply with 37 CFR 1.84(p)(4) because reference characters "21" and "25" have both been used to designate transfer mechanism. Corrected drawing sheets in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. Any amended replacement drawing sheet should include all of the figures appearing on the immediate prior version of the sheet, even if only one figure is being amended. If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

The drawings are objected to as failing to comply with 37 CFR 1.84(p)(4) because reference character "25" has been used to designate both transfer mechanism and base. Corrected drawing sheets in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. Any amended replacement drawing sheet should include all of the figures appearing on the immediate prior version of the sheet, even if only one figure is being amended. Each drawing sheet submitted after the filing date of an application must be labeled in the top margin as either "Replacement Sheet" or "New Sheet" pursuant to 37 CFR 1.121(d). If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Specification

The disclosure is objected to because of the following informalities:

On page 2, line 16, change "sufficiently" to –sufficient--.

On page 18, line 29, change "frond" to --front--,

Detailed description of drawing does not specify Figures 14a, 14b, and 14c.

Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1-6 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over JP 2005-260176. The Japanese Reference discloses the applicants primary inventive concept including a vertical heat treatment system of typical structure known in the art, and further includes a transfer mechanism (20) that transfers process objects between a holder and a container adapted to hold a plurality of process objects at predetermined intervals, the transfer mechanism including a base (23) adapted for vertical movement and turning movement, and a substrate holding device (22), adapted to support a process object, mounted to the base so as to be capable of moving anteroposteriorly, a first sensor (SEE Figure 14), attached to the base, that emits a light beam directed toward a direction in which the substrate support device moves, and is capable of detecting a target member upon receipt of a reflected light of the light beam, a second sensor, attached to two tip end portions (60, 61) of the substrate support devices, that is capable of detecting the target member upon interruption of a light beam traveling between the tip end portions by the target member, and a control unit (52) that capable of deducing the target position based on detection signals of the first and second sensors and encoder values of drive systems of the transfer mechanism associated with the detection signals, and recognizes the target position thus deduced. JP 2005-260176 however does not teach a plurality of substrate support devices configured to move independently from each other. It would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which the subject matter pertains to have modified the Japanese Reference (JP 2005-260176) to include multiple substrate support devices for the purpose of manipulating multiple substrates in a vertical treatment system since it has been held that a mere duplication of the essential working parts of a device involves only routine skill in the art and to make these individual parts function independently of one another is not innovative.
